Two Arlington men die in business district

Mail carrier and local resident succumb to heart attacks

Heart failure took the lives of two Arlington Heights residents the past week while they were in the business district.

Elmer Bierman, 37, 539 S. Duntun, dropped dead Saturday morning in the lobby of the Hagenbring building as he was delivering mail.

Oscar A. Tyssen, 49, of 525 South Highland, succumbed Monday afternoon on the first landing of a stairway in the Farm Bureau building as he was on his way to keep an appointment with Dr. Meisenheimer.

Bierman had been a sub-carrier in Arlington since June 8. On July 24 he took an examination for a position as a permanent carrier-clerk. He was substituting for Ralph Stippich when he fell over at the entrance of the Hagenbring building.

A passerby discovered his body and from the Public Service office called Dr. Meisenheimer and notified the post office.

The family moved from Itasca to Arlington Heights last October. He previously worked at the local postoffice from January to March.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Bernice, and two-year-old daughter, Arvilla. "Funeral services were held Tuesday."

MR. TYSSSEN was accompanied by his wife when he fell. He had not previously consulted a physician, but following severe pains in his chest had made an appointment with Dr. Meisenheimer. The trip to the office was made in a car.

Dr. Meisenheimer's office girl heard him fall and called the doctor, but death was instantaneous.

Mr. Tyssen was a partner in the George F. Wilke company, wholesale produce dealers of Chicago. The family came to Arlington in November, 1947.

A wife and daughter, Jane, survive. Funeral services were held Thursday.

Must officers become expert marksmen
'on their own'

Until recently, the wearing of a gun holster did not necessarily insure the capture of bandits in action in Arlington Heights. It took a preliminary shooting practice to convince Chief Skoog and his men that local policemen would be in danger if they had a real shooting fray with bandits.

The result was the establishment of a rifle range in the eastern part of the village. Then came a bill for the live ammunition.

Should a police officer pay the cost of marksmanship training in order to protect his own life? Should the village pay the bill on the theory that the dead shot officer might save the life of some citizen?

It was presented by Chief Skoog for payment out of village funds "since the police fund is rather low at this time."

"Our spending on shells is far less than other communities," Alderman Hartmann explained to the board members. "Why, in the board members, and Des Plaines, they even give a prize to the deadliest eye on the force."

The board approved the bill and "accepted" an invitation from Chief Skoog to meet the police force at the target grounds at the sewage disposal plant for a few rounds of sharpshooting.

Officer Jahnke is the champion of the police team. None of the village board members has yet claimed a similar honor.

O. G. Barrett is still a gentleman farmer

O. G. Barrett, former Cook County farm adviser and member of the board of trustees of the village of Arlington Heights, was in Arlington Saturday. He enjoyed greeting former friends, who found that OG had changed very little. He is still a gentleman farmer in Indiana where he operates a dairy farm, all pure-breds. He is still a Republican and enjoys Democratic prosperity. He is a personal friend of Wallace but that friendship may not extend to the ballot box.

Mr. Barrett came to Chicago to call on his brother who is in Hines hospital because of a broken hip.

Wheeling voters turn down new village hall

A $50,000 bond issue for the erection of a village hall and fire station was not popular with Wheeling voters Tuesday. They turned down the proposition by a vote of more than two to one. The result was 89 against the bonds and only 38 favoring the project.

Persons interested in the erection of the new building to house the new fire truck which had been given to the village by the firemen depended upon the active support of the members of the department to carry the proposition.

Fear of higher taxes is given for the defeat of the proposition. At present records of the village are kept in the home of the clerk and the new $15,000 fire truck is stored in the garage of the Texaco Service station.

Failure of many people to register is one of the excuses given for the defeat of the project. President Ortelge stated that the village board had considered the building was needed and gave the voters an opportunity to make the decision. Whether it will again be presented to the voters depends upon public opinion.

Mr. Prospect is completing a new village hall; Prospect Heights is raising funds for a fire station. Wheeling is still using the structure of 75 years ago.

Arlington Provision Co.
in hands of new owners

Arlington Provision Company, 13 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, has been sold to Emil Feicht, who formerly operated a market in Evanston, and Charles Wassmer, a former wholesaler meat firm employee. They will operate the market here under the new name of Arlington Packing Company.

According to Mr. Feicht, they will do both a retail and wholesale business.

Village seeks automatic bookkeeper

The village of Arlington Heights will accept bids until September 7 for a new combination bookkeeping, billing and accounting machine for the village.

The machine will handle water billing, general budget and revenue accounts, pay rolls, general cash, and special assessment collections.

Bids should be deposited with the village clerk on or before September 7 at 2 p. m.

Selective service seeks volunteers for registration

Registration of men between the ages of 19 and 25 years under the new selective service act starts August 30 and continues thru September 18, including Saturdays and Labor Day. The state selective service board is asking for volunteer workers to take the registrations.

Persons who are willing to give full or part time for this work are asked to phone their names and addresses to the high school office, Arlington Heights, or write to Selective Service, 523 Plymouth Court.

The hours will be between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., but may possibly be changed to afternoon and evening hours.

Area districts have been announced but the location of the area offices has not yet been determined.

NORTHWEST Cook County will be known as area No. 2. It will extend from Lake and McHenry County on the north to DuPage County and North Ave. (in Cook County) on the south. The west boundary will be Kane County and the east will be the Chicago city limits and Chicago & Northwestern and North Shore electric line (in area north of Chicago).

There will be three local boards for that area, to be designated as 101, 102 and 103.

Area No. 1 will be the north-shore between Lake county and Howard street and extending west to the North Shore and Northwestern railroads. Local boards will carry the numbers 96, 98 and 100.

Membership of the local draft boards will not be announced until after the close of registration.

The army is expected to issue its first draft call early in September with those answering that call arriving in army camps by November 1.

It will take 60 days for the draft machinery to get into full operation.

No announcement has yet been made as to the place of registration, but the draft areas are much enlarged over the territory in which they held sway during World War II.

With the exception of heavily populated counties, draft board operations will be county wide. Cook County Selective Service district 1 will be along the north shore, while district 2 (formerly district 1) will be all northwest Cook county outside of Chicago, lying north of North Avenue.

THE ARMY expects to secure 30,000 men a month thru the draft and a like number thru new recruits and re-enlistments.

Ten days after registration the men will receive questionnaires by mail, which will be scrutinized by draft officials to eliminate those who are entitled to deferments, the requirements for which have not yet been announced.

Included in deferments will be those who served in the last war, those who have dependents and men with scientific, professional and technical skills considered essential to public health, welfare, safety and national defense.

From the available men the draft boards will start their calls for inductions. After the men have their physical examinations and are accepted for military service they will have 21 days to clear up their personal affairs before reporting for duty.

IN CHOOSING board members, Col. Armstrong said, every effort has been made to insure that Republicans and Democrats are equally represented. He said his office also is attempting to insure equal representation for Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish faiths.

Veterans are preferred, he said, since experience has shown men who once wore the uniform often are more conscientious about their work. In cities he has sought men and women familiar with their districts, while in rural areas most board members will be farmers.

It is understood that the older men will be called first. Men 25 years will be first taken, but those of that age who did not serve in World War II are limited.

To add class rooms at St.
Peter school

Plans are now under way to add two classrooms to St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, to relieve congestion of additional pupils attending. The new rooms will be built in the former auditorium and will temporarily provide a room for the school office and health program.

Staff for the coming year is complete. It will include: A. W. Bathie, principal and eighth grade; O. A. Kolb, seventh grade; A. W. Obermann, sixth grade; K. L. Busse, fifth grade; E. Klammer, fourth grade; L. Rush, third grade; Claire Highberger, second grade; Mrs. W. Lenheim, second grade; Ruth Going, first grade; and Edna Lehenbater, kindergarten.

Mr. Rush joins the faculty from Columbus, Indiana. Mrs. Highberger taught at St. Peter school two years ago, and is returning. Mrs. Lanheim, new member of the faculty, will teach a section of the second grade, which is expected to have over 50 pupils.

THE SCHOOL will formally open its doors Wednesday, September 8, at 9 a. m. All teachers will attend a teacher's institute all day Tuesday, September 7.

Children entering the first grade must be six years old by December 1 of this year, and those entering kindergarten must be five by the same date. Kindergarten enrollees and those entering the first grade as new enrollees of the school must have passed a physical examination. Blanks may be obtained by calling Arl. Hts. 1382-M, or Mrs. M. Rodewald at 1851-W. Fifth graders will be given their examination blanks the first days of school.

St. Peter Lutheran school is a thrice weekly parochial school maintained by St. Peter church. Its facilities are available to all normal children whose parents are interested in a Christian training for them. Parents of the community planning to enroll their children are urged to do so immediately, since increasing enrollment will necessitate closing some classes.

Further information can be gained by calling the principal at 1382-M.

COACH RESIGNS

George Gibson, coach of the junior varsities of baseball and basketball teams at Arlington Heights township high school, resigned this week. The announcement was made by Principal LeRoy J. Knoepfel.

Mrs. W. F. Rowalder, new cafeteria employee, also resigned this week.

'Hurry, hurry—
only one week more'
say tax collectors

Township tax collectors this week reported a "very slow" second-installment collection from local taxpayers. Business also has been light at the county office.

One more week remains for taxpayers to make remittance to the township officials. Local collectors have agreed on August 28 as closing day in order to get their books posted at the county building and to make final reports by the September 1 penalty date.

After the September 1 date, a one per cent a month penalty will be added to tax bills.

Persons who went before the board of appeals to "discuss" tax valuations probably will not receive their corrected bills, if any, before the latter part of September or October.

Persons who have neglected their periodical visits to the collector's office are reminded there is only one full week left to pay that tax-paying call before the close of banking hours at noon on Saturday, August 28.

Do you have 'B.L.'?

Bright colors and cords insure 'bold look' for men

Women aren't the only people who are walking around with a "look" these days.

Men who desire to be correctly dressed this fall will exhibit an over-all color and style scheme that has been termed the "bold look" by the male fashion world.

Hints on clothes and accessories that will give that certain appeal to the male animal were made public this week by Fred C. Lingren, Carl Ewert and Ray Lemke.

TO BE BOLD, men, latch on to these notes:

The wide-spread collar and Windsor tie in bright, eye-catching colors are as necessary to be "bold" as is a handy line.

Corduroy and gabardine sport shirts in shades of wheat, gray, maroon, luggage and brown are correct for that studied casual look while lounging around the house on a Sunday afternoon or just relaxing from the hustle-bustle of business.

Item No. 3: Corduroy jackets and suits will be distinguished by a longer, looser, lounge look, will be of a softer construction and will have a draped appearance. Sleeve cuffs will remain at the 3-button style.

Flash explosion
burns Palatine man
at Benjamin plant

Lester Blizek of Gainer Park, Palatine, was seriously burned in a flash explosion at the Benjamin Electric manufacturing plant, Des Plaines, Friday. The explosion was caused as Blizek turned on a switch, a spark igniting an accumulation of gas. Liquid gas is stored near the switch house.

Blizek was rushed to Northwestern hospital in Des Plaines, where he was found to have suffered first degree burns to his face, and more serious injuries to his arms and hands. He was still in the hospital Tuesday of this week.

High school bus schedule

Bus schedules for Arlington Heights township high school for the coming school year were announced this week by Principal LeRoy J. Knoepfel, and will be found elsewhere in this week's newspaper.

return treatment will feature the cuff of French cuffs and bold-looking cuff links, and double-duty snap brim hats will be worn by "men of affairs," according to the local retailers.

Men's shoes will have soles three times thicker than last year, and a white stitching on the seams will give an extra ruggedness to complement a "bold" outfit. Also shoes with reverse seams and straight tips will be worn by men who are strictly in the know.

"Men are accepting bright colors and less conservative styles as an adventure in human relations," Lingren stated. "After all, if a bold look can create a bold man, what male would not take advantage of the change?"

PLUMBING FIXTURES
TAKEN OVER WEEK-END

Ed Labant recently purchased the house on the rear of the property to be used by the A&P store, 112 W. Campbell. He intends to move the building to another site, but friends tell him he must hurry or there will be no house to move. Over the week-end somebody removed the plumbing fixtures and a kitchen sink.

4 police squads
in Arlington
man hunt

A hunt for two masked men ringing doorbells and threatening residents on Arlington Heights north side Saturday night was carried out by Arlington, Mt. Prospect and Palatine police squads. No trace of the masked men has been found.

Residents of the neighborhood described the men as being about 35, one short and one tall.

A call from Mrs. George Clem, 646 N. Douglas, brought police to her home at 9:45 p. m. Saturday. She told the police the front doorbell had rung and when she went to answer no one was there. Officer Mueller searched the neighborhood but found no one.

An hour later Joe Siegler, of 611 N. Haddow, called police and told them two masked men appeared at the rear door. When Mrs. Siegler answered, one man tried to grab her, but her screams and the appearance of a visitor at the Siegler home scared the masked men and they ran east into a field.

Investigating officers Karstens, Johnson, Bauer and Mueller radioed for help from Mt. Prospect and Palatine police, and Officers Zick and Moehling of Palatine, and Officer Kranz of Mt. Prospect joined the search, patrolling a four-square block area.

Neighbors told police that earlier that evening Bernard Brehm, of 511 E. Euclid, had trouble with two men ringing the doorbell at his home at 9:30 p. m. He did not call the police.

At 11:46 p. m. the same two men returned to the Brehm house and Brehm chased them but they got away. Officer Johnson stayed at the Brehm residence until 1:30 a. m. to guard for a possible return visit.

Thirty swimmers pass
Red Cross pool
tests at Arlington

The fourth annual learn-to-swim program, sponsored by suburban and Chicago park districts and the Chicago Chapter Red Cross, closed at Arlington Heights municipal pool on Friday, August 6, with more than 30 youngsters receiving swimming proficiency awards.

Arlington Heights youngsters who passed the Red Cross beginner's test are Darlene Arnold, Mary Arnold, Don Bedingfield, Josephine Duro, Carol Edelblute, Ashley Haase, Carole Hadland, Lawrence Hapke, Mickey Harris, Carol Holmes, Peter Johnson, Jackie Kinder, Bill Lussow, Roger Mueller, Nancy Neville, Robert Siegen, Peter Swanson, Donald Wille, Karin Morsette, Bonnie Malchow, Audrey Gronert and Rita Tinkle. All are of Arlington Heights.

Students from Mt. Prospect who passed the beginner's test are Kay Bressnapp, Barbara Coffman, Nancy Coffman, Rita Felbinger, Beth Gassen, Gilbert Haas, Judy Peterson, and Myrna Tawney.

From Prospect Heights: Kenneth Koreck, David Nessen, Judy Sigwart, Deane Vohs.

THEO Heide and Judith Morsette, both of Palatine, passed the beginners Red Cross swimming contest. The beginner's test required swimming the length of the pool once and floating one minute.

Students who passed the intermediate test, which included swimming 50 yards, floating one minute and one dive, are: Don Bedingfield, Gilbert Haas, Lawrence Hapke, Jackie Kinder, Roger Mueller, Tom Bowersox and Lynn Cox.

The aquatic program was concentrated on the beginning swimmer, especially the child between 7 and 12. Approximately 10,000 Chicago area youngsters completed the Red Cross beginner's skills and passed the test of swimming one length of the pool. Red Cross certificates will be awarded to those who successfully passed the course. Every student who learned to swim will receive an American Red Cross beginner's pin.

Thousands of Chicago area children received initial courses in swimming during the past summer. In all cases, fear of water was replaced by self-confidence.

Molly Espenshade, qualified Red Cross instructor, was in charge of instruction at the Arlington pool.

Use of gas tax funds will provide parking space at Recreation Park

Arlington Heights will have some street widening through the use of gas tax funds, regardless of the fate of street widening in the business loop.

The village board Monday evening, with all members present except Trustee Luehring, approved a resolution calling for the use of gas tax funds to widen Douglas Ave. for a length of 1,350 feet.

The widening will permit diagonal parking on each side for use of the public visiting Recreation Park. It will also relieve the parking jam in the narrow residential streets north and west of the park.

Mayor Goedke told the board he had been considering such a plan for sometime and thought that in justice to the home owners near the park, some place should be found for parking.

"Douglas avenue appears to be the answer," stated the mayor.

ACTION on the widening of the streets in the business district awaits arrival of plans and estimates of the engineers. The board passed a resolution last week directing the village engineers to proceed with the work.

Approval of the widening by property owners will probably depend upon the use each individual intends to make of his property. If he expects business property prices for his land, the widening is a necessity. If he desires to hold his property purely for residential purposes, his approval may not be given.

UNTIL DEFINITE cost figures are available, it is too early for individual property owners to make a decision. They will have ample time to protect their rights.

A second resolution passed Monday night provided for establishment of a $5,500 maintenance fund under the motor fuel tax law.

The fund will pay for care of village trees, plowing snow, cleaning streets, and filling street cracks with tar.

Thirty trees in Arlington Ridge are in such worm-infested condition, superintendent of streets Becker told the meeting, that they will soon die if not taken care of. Alderman Hoffie reported a contract to clear up the worm disease at 60 cents per tree. The village clerk was instructed to investigate the matter.

Arlington police to take turns at 'inside' job

It is still warm weather, but winter is on the way. Police Chief Skoog is not going to show any partiality in selecting officers for the inside radio job.

Officer Phillip Bracke, of Arlington Heights police department, will leave his job at the police radio station for outside patrol duty, starting September 1.

Bracke and Officers Mueller, Johnson and Melbourne will alternate every four months as radio men. Johnson now is relief radio operator.

Officer Melbourne started his vacation last Sunday and is visiting relatives in Ohio.

The new police car is "coming along very well," according to Chief Skoog. It already has acquired 3,200 miles. Crime-chasing car 107 has 102,000 miles, but still manages to do its duty.

Police efficiency is increasing every week. A dark green 1947 Buick, license number 1196491 was reported stolen Sunday morning at 8:45. Police located the missing auto at 9:30 a. m. and returned it to the owner.

Register 4-year-olds for nursery school

Enrollment for four year olds in the Community Nursery school to be held in the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church, will take place Tuesday, August 24, from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., in the office of the church.

The Nursery school will be in session from 9 to 11:30 a. m. five days a week, and will open September 7. The school year will consist of two semesters, the first opening in September and continuing until January 28; the second opening January 31 and continuing until June 10.

Tuition will be $60.00 a semester or $120.00 for the entire year and is payable on a semester basis, in advance of each semester. An enrollment fee of $5.00 is requested at the time of enrollment.

Northsiders interested in more information about the "parking station" may contact Mrs. Holtz and southsiders Mrs. Wisersky.

Hours will be from 9 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. daily at a charge of $3 per week. Payment can be by the month or by semester of 20 weeks.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 15, was:

"SOUL"

The Golden Text was:
"Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul" (Ps. 66: 16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord . . . And I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people" (Lev. 26: 2, 11, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"We cannot deny that Life is self-sustained, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony. Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul" (p. 390).

To Prolong Mental Health

by SIEBURG DRUG CO., Inc.
As advancements in medical knowledge add more years to our lives, we face the problem of how to prepare for that longer period in our life when we shall have much leisure time.

Happiness in those later years will depend on how well equipped we are to enjoy them. Moderation in living, a keen interest in what is going on in the world, and personal interests and activities that keep us physically alert will bring satisfaction and make us agreeable people to live with.

Really good health is necessary too, and there is no better time to lay the foundation for it than right now. See your doctor for that complete examination.

Activities About Wheeling

The special election held in Wheeling this week revealed the fact that there are a goodly number of citizens residing in the village who lost their vote because of not being properly registered. To avoid disappointment in the fall presidential election all such persons are urged to register at an early date. Registrations can be made at the home of the village clerk any time until October 4. All new residents who will be eligible to vote at that election, and any persons who may have neglected registration are urged to do so now.

The circus comes to town next week for a one day stand. The Wheeling Amvets are sponsors of the Ayres & Kathryn Davies one ring circus, who will put on two performances on Wednesday, August 25, on the Wheeling school grounds. There will be an afternoon and an evening performance. The admission price of 75c for adults and 50c for children will be the only charge. This is the first show of its kind to come to Wheeling since the days of the older generation, and should provide plenty of thrills for the young fry.

Miss Nancy Scott has been convalescing from a tonsillectomy performed at Elmhurst hospital last Saturday.

Plum Grove church to celebrate 100th anniversary

The congregation of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church of Plum Grove, will celebrate its 100th anniversary and rededication on Sunday, August 29.

Although St. John's was organized in 1846, the centennial festivities were delayed until this year to complete a renovation project, according to Rev. Peter Beecken, the congregation's twenty-seventh pastor.

THREE SPEAKERS will highlight the day's ceremonies. Rev. Paul Winger, of Skokie, will speak at the 10 a. m. service. Prof. John Biegeleisen, of Eden Seminary, Webster Grove, Mo., will speak at 2:30 p. m. at the jubilee service, and Rev. George Ellerbrake, vice-president of Northern Illinois synod will deliver the closing speech at 8 p. m. Former pastors and others from neighboring parishes also will speak briefly.

They include E. Bergtraesser, B. Freese, Herbert Beecken, C. Stanger, and Prof. Otto Heick, Ph. D.

"There were times during the century when the church was divided by dissension," Rev. Beecken stated, "but we are happy and jubilant now that we are existing and can celebrate."

The church had its beginning before the arrival of the Northwestern railroad and before the name of Palatine was adopted for the township. The mail came overland along Algonquin road from Elk Grove. The first church was officially named "United Evangelical Congregation at Wickleffe, Cook Co., Ill." But in 1854 "St. John Evangelical Church" was adopted.

DISSENSION marred growth of the church for many years and started with disagreement over the church's location. It was impossible to obtain clear title for the building site purchased for the church in proximity of the parsonage, so one member donated one and one-fourth acres at the present church site, half a mile east of the parsonage.

East side residents accepted this location, but members from the west side insisted the building be nearer the parsonage. A division of the congregation resulted. The two dissenting groups became reconciled in 1854 and the church building project was finally completed.

PEACE REIGNED for a decade and by 1876 a larger church was needed. One was built at a cost of $2,894. A new school house was built near the parsonage in 1885 and in 1880 a new parsonage was built at the cost of $1,150. Two years later the parsonage and school house were destroyed by fire, and two other structures were erected beside the new church on the east side. The new building project hardly had been accomplished when the new church steeple was struck by lightning, and the church lay in ashes within an hour.

Reconstruction of the old foundation was begun within a week, however, and the new church was dedicated in 1885, at a cost of $2,700. Recent renovations to the church cost $9,000.

The years 1947 and 1948 are remembered by Rev. Beecken as the years when "the people had a mind to work." Some of the improvements made during that time include a new well, church basement, oil heating plant, interior decorating and altar rugs and candelabra.

A LADIES AID society was organized in 1911, and a year later a young people's society was established. Mrs. Louis Rohde is president of the Ladies aid society, Mrs. Arthur Plote, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Kalkbrenner, secretary, and Mrs. Henry Homeier, treasurer.

Sunday school superintendent is Mrs. Edward Berlin, who has 43 pupils. Teachers include Harold Bergman, Alfred Murswick, Arthur Plote and Mrs. William Jahn.

Centennial celebrations are in charge of the church council of which Henry Homeier is president; Bergman, secretary, and Plote, treasurer. Members are Elmer Wente, Irving Rohde, William Jahn and Edward Berlin.

The Plum Grove church can be called the mother church of St. Paul's Evangelical Church in Palatine, which was established in 1870.

Canned Baby Food
Production of canned baby food has developed into a big business in the last few years. Figures show that the average baby in this country was eating only two pounds of canned baby food in 1935. He was eating 13 pounds by 1939. Baby's consumption of foods specially canned for his use was up to 45 pounds in 1947.

Bell will ring in village church Sunday

by HARRY LUNDELL
Peals of church bells are a sign of rejoicing. That is why, on Sunday, August 22, in Northbrook the bell will ring out hourly.

That Sunday, in Amsterdam, Holland, delegates of 140 Protestant and Orthodox churches in 39 countries will gather for the opening of the First Assembly of the World Council of Churches. The event brings to a climax a century of vision and concrete effort to make real the great community of Christian people throughout the world.

But the peal of church bells on Sunday will be more than a signal for rejoicing. They will also call to prayer. A great commission has been laid on the shoulders of the churches' chosen delegates. They will need the spiritual backing of Christians all over the world if they are to carry forward their tasks with the greatness of mind and spirit that this date demands — if they are to see behind the chaos of man's disorder the emerging outlines of God's design.

Theirs will be the task to bring into being the World Council of Churches—an embodiment of an ideal of Christian community. Theirs will also be the task to study those great issues which confront the Christian churches today, and to join their minds to discover more common unities in Christian thought.

Only as those delegates sense the spiritual support of Christians throughout the world will they be able to forge instruments through which their common Lord may transform the world.

Diet of Hawks
Out of 100 hawks of all species only one individual normally acquires the habit of getting easy food around the poultry farm. When a hawk is seen near a poultry farm it does not necessarily follow that he is after chickens. Where there is grain there are apt to be rats and mice, and most hawks prefer them to feathered prey.

U. S. Bureau of Standards
The United States bureau of standards covers 67 1/2 acres of ground in Washington. It was created in 1901. Besides its work on atomic energy and other secrets, the bureau sets up standards in weights, measurements and other things, and also does research work.

Lunch Bar opens Saturday at Prospect Heights

The general public of the northwest area have a new place to eat. The Lunch Bar opens Saturday at Prospect Heights. No expense has been spared in the equipment and furnishings.

The walls are of pecky cypress; cooking equipment is all stainless steel. Counters are formica; tables are chromium and formica; chairs and stools are red leather.

THE PLACE is under the management of Fred Skidmore, who was formerly with O'Connell of Chicago hamburger fame. Deluxe hamburgers will always be the feature, but there will be a lot of short orders with three dinner specials each day. Popular prices will prevail.

A special feature will be hamburgers to take home. A telephone call to the Lunch Bar will mean that hamburgers for the family will be ready on the dot when you call for them.

THE LUNCH BAR will be open from 11:30 a. m. to midnight, catering to auto trade as well as local residents. "We will cater to the person or family who want a quick lunch, as well as to those who have an hour to spend for dinner," says Mr. Skidmore.

Business men of Prospect Hts. are showing a lot of interest in the latest addition to their drive-in shopping center and in a page announcement in this paper, welcome the arrival of the Lunch Bar.

Prospect Heights, with its ample parking space along Elmhurst and McDonald road, and the large parking lot at the rear of the L-shape business structure, can accommodate a multitude of cars at one time.

IT IS BECOMING the shopping center of a wide area by people who appreciate the convenience and well equipped stores to be found there.

Spray to Control Flies

Walls and rafters of barns, unfinished attics and storerooms may be sprayed with a water-dispersible DDT spray, made by mixing 12 tablespoons of 40 per cent DDT wettable powder in one gallon of water. This spray leaves a whitish deposit of DDT, which will be effective for several months in killing insects which crawl over it. The water spray is effective on unfinished surfaces such as rough wood, porous plaster and cement. For finished attics closets and other rooms of the house a five per cent DDT solution is preferred, because the deposit it leaves is invisible and nothing is marked or stained by it. It should be used with caution because it is inflammable.

DO YOU KNOW—

That pie, according to recent report is the supreme national dessert of America—with the apple predominant. It is estimated that the American people consume 1,500,000 pies a day—New York City alone putting under its belt 91,000,000 of them a week.

When to Pick Strawberries

Strawberries which ripen on the plant have finer flavor and more vitamin C than those picked green and allowed to ripen afterward. Berries picked when half red and held for two days until fully red increased, successive tests showed, in vitamin C but did not increase as much as those ripened on the plant. The light and sunshine of the last week before harvesting berries is most important for the production of Vitamin C in the fruit.

Arlington man opens silversmith class in Rhode Island

G. H. Niemeyer, a native of Arlington Heights, president of Handy and Harman, refiners and dealers in precious metal, opened the second national Silversmithing Workshop Conference for teachers when he greeted them at the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence. Baron Erik Fleming, court silversmith to the king of Sweden, is conducting the conference which extends through August 27.

The baron's work is represented in museums throughout the world including the Metropolitan Museum of Art. His professional honors and decorations include the French Legion of Honor, the Order of the Vasa Royal and the Gold Medal of Prince Eugen, the highest honor given for artistic activity in Sweden.

Printer's hobby becomes Elk Grove show place

by TOM HART

Stories often are told about itinerant printers who wandered over the land from job to job, rattling around like peas in a pod, not settling roots anywhere. But this is a story about a printer who got tired of jumping from pillar to post and who really settled down and "took root."

It's the story of Paul Arne-man, of Arlington Heights, for twenty years a linotype operator for Paddock Publications, and how he settled down on South State road in Elk Grove township and with the help of his good wife, Maude, has made his home a show place.

Several years ago Paul and his wife decided to have a place of their own and bought a piece of property that hadn't been kept up too well. As the years passed, the Arne-mans gradually made improvements to the house and grounds until now the neat, little white house stands amid a blazing mass of flowers and husky evergreens and shrubs.

Beds and borders of bright petunias, patches of stately gladioli and some of the loveliest canna's we've ever seen, together with many other flowers, make the Arne-man lawn a veritable show place.

Around a public service pole in the yard is a bed of mammoth zinnias, while roses climb all over an arbor in the back yard.

As Paul proudly showed several visitors around his place, he waved his hand at his wife and said, "It's all her doing. She's the flower gardener."

To which his wife replied, "But Paul set out all those evergreens and did the landscaping and heavy work."

SOMEONE ASKED Paul, after seeing his landscaping job, if he'd gone to night school to study landscaping, but Paul hadn't. He just went ahead and created those terraces and set things where he thought they'd look best.

Paul doesn't have a vegetable garden and when questioned about it, he replied, "No, for two people, it doesn't pay. I planted a bush of potatoes once and got a peck back. From now on, it's flowers and shrubs."

Launching into his plans for the future, Paul said he wanted to bring the rest of the land into his scheme of things with more lawn and still more flowers. The canna bed and evergreens are Paul's particular pride, while his wife tends to the other flowers. The Arne-mans have their own well and use a good amount of water each evening on those flowers and shrubs.

Many people who drive along South State road admire the Arne-man yard and often stop to look at the gardens. What Paul and Maude Arne-man have accomplished with their place shows what can be done by folks with a will to work and a love for the work they're doing.

650 attend wedding of LaVerne Bein, R. Busse

The wedding vows of Miss LaVerne Bein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bein, Prairie View, and Rollin Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Busse, Des Plaines, were repeated Sunday, after Rev. F. L. Gehrs, at the Elk Grove St. John, Ev. Lutheran church. Palms, ferns, vases of mixed flowers, and gladioli decorated the church for the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

"The Lord's Prayer," and "O Perfect Love" were sung during the services by Mrs. Dorothy Schiff, who was accompanied at the organ by Paul Meeske.

Attired in traditional white satin the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown had princess lines, sweetheart neckline, trimmed in seed pearls, long fitted sleeves, and full skirt ending in a long train. A simulated orange blossom tiara held her fingertip net veil in place. White roses, with an orchid center, dropping stephanotis streamers, made up her bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Blanche Bein, sister of the bride, who was gowned in rose taffeta dress, styled with tier affect neckline, and straight line skirt with bustle affect back. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, and wore a matching headpiece.

Miss Rita Miller, Miss Carol Jean Busse, Mrs. Nora Busse, and Mrs. Marilyn Busse were the bridesmaids. They were dressed in grass green taffeta dresses, styled as the maid of honor's, and carried bouquets of yellow roses, with matching headpieces for their hair.

Blanche Dohe, John Geils take wedding vows

A double ring ceremony July 24, at the St. John Ev. and Ref. church, Bensenville, united in holy matrimony Miss Blanche Dohe and John Geils, with Rev. Bergstraesser tying the nuptial knot.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, and candelabra at the altar, with white ribbon bows tied to the pews. During the candlelight service Mr. Elworth, soloist of the Oxford Quartet, sang "Because" and "At Dawning," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Herman Magers.

Miss Dohe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dohe of Des Plaines, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of ivory bridal satin, colonial in style, having fitted bodice, square neckline, and hooped skirt, trimmed in lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a halo of net. A gold necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry. The bridal bouquet was cascade in style and made up of a large white gladiolus, centered in stephanotis and not, dropping streamers of white ribbon knotted with stephanotis.

A chiffon gown of yellow, fashioned with fitted bodice, having three quarter length sleeves and sweetheart neckline, and a full tunic skirt edged in lace, was worn by the bride's cousin, Jeannette Witthoeft, who acted as maid of honor. She also wore a chiffon open crowned sweetheart bonnet to match her dress, and white gloves to complete her attire. She carried a cascade bouquet of flame gladioli.

Bridesmaids were Betty Berk, Audrey Riley and Muriel Stein. They were dressed in pale green chiffon, identical to the maid of honor, and carried cascade bouquets of yellow gladioli. All of the bride's attendants wore cameo necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Ella Mae Dehlinger, god child of the groom, acted as flower girl. Her dress was of yellow chiffon, with fitted bodice and short puffed sleeves. The round neckline and full tunic skirt were edged with a narrow ruffle. She wore a matching bonnet and yellow mitts, and carried a miniature cascade bouquet of flame gladioli. The bride presented her with a heart shaped locket of gold, which she also wore.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Geils of Bensenville, was Verne Dohe, brother of the bride, with Herman Wagner, Fred Riley and William Dehlinger serving as ushers. John Heidersbach, cousin of the bride, acted as ring bearer, carrying the rings in on a white satin pillow.

Mothers of the bride and bridegroom both chose to wear light blue dresses, and had corsages of white gladioli.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the VFW hall, Bensenville, and was attended by 400 guests. Music was furnished by Earl Ninow's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Geils motored to Yellowstone National Park for their honeymoon and are now making their home at 189 S. York street, Bensenville.

A second shower was bestowed on Miss Pate last week Thursday, by her aunts, Mrs. Willard H. Pate and Mrs. Wilbur H. Pate. Relatives of the bride-to-be were present to view the opening of the many lovely gifts.

Miss Pate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pate of Arlington Heights, will be married September 4 to Dale Berglund of Chicago.

Rosemarie Michalowski, Edward Campbell marry

Rev. Richard Rosemeyer of the St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, united Miss Rosemarie Michalowski and Edward Campbell in holy matrimony last Saturday. Flowers decorated the altar and organ selections were played during the ceremony.

Miss Michalowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michalowski of Arlington Heights, was gown in white and given in marriage by her father. Her dress was fashioned with an eyelet bodice, having high neckline and long sleeves, and a full skirt, ending in a ruffled train. A braided mesh headpiece covered with orange blossoms, held her three-quarter length veil in place. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses to complete her attire.

The bride's cousin, Dolores Michalowski, served as maid of honor. She wore a dress of yellow low cycle and net, having shirred fitted bodice with short sleeves, and a full skirt. Bridesmaids were Lois Osted and Anita Leonard, who wore green and orchid respectively, styled as the maid of honor's dress. All of the bride's attendants carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

James Campbell, brother of the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Campbell Sr. of Newton, Mass., was best man. Robert Komac and Philip Collins acted as ushers.

A dinner and reception was held at the Major Hall in Chicago, with 125 guests present for dinner, and 225 guests attending the reception.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Wisconsin. They will arrive home Sunday and make their home with the bride's parents for the present, moving later to Chicago.

WCS luncheon set for August 24

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Meeting House, Arlington Heights, will hold their pot luck luncheon Tuesday, August 24, at 1 p. m., instead of September 14, the regular date.

September 14 is the opening date of the annual hobby show, which is also sponsored by the WCS.

Date: Sept. 14-16

Unusual hobbies, antiques to be shown at Arlington

The fifth annual antique and hobby show at Arlington Heights will be open to visitors at Methodist meeting house on September 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. Harold E. Olson, general chairman, and Mrs. Charles Deigl, co-chairman, have been working with members of the Women's society on plans for the show which annually attracts many antique lovers and hobby enthusiasts.

Unusual hobbies will be featured in the fifth annual antique and hobby show at Arlington Heights Methodist meeting house. Hobbies to be shown will come from all parts of the Chicago area.

The show committee also wishes to include a great number of local hobbies in the displays. Mrs. John Shanklin, 1355-R, may be contacted by area residents wishing to have entries in the show.

Antique dealers have reserved booths for months in advance, realizing that the Arlington show is one of the best of its kind in this area. They will bring extensive collections of antiques for sale to hobbyists and early Christmas shoppers.

In the hobby section many hobby owners will accompany their collections in demonstration and providing information about their displays. Unusual leisure time activities have been sought for this purpose.

The fifty-cent charge will purchase a ticket good for three days, so visitors may return as many times as they desire. Luncheons and dinners will be served each day of the show. Afternoon tea will be served each day at St. John's church, with the attractive background of the table settings display. Apricot Cottage Cheese Pie

Truly a pastry for a party is this apricot cottage cheese pie. Each serving is topped with whipped cream nests crowned with an apricot half.

Want an extra-smooth dessert to make a debut at a special dinner? An apricot cottage cheese pie may take a little more fuss than some, but the reward is pure pleasure. As the guest bites into a generous wedge of this luscious pie he will discover that beneath the whipped cream and apricot garnish lies a creamy layer of cottage cheese custard—and beneath that, a richly flavored apricot layer over flaky crust.

An important point to remember in making this pie is that the cheese custard must be baked at a rather low temperature to keep the milk and cheese proteins tender. Since the pie crust should be started in a very hot oven, only the apricot layer is placed in the shell for the initial baking. After ten minutes, take the pie from the oven and pour the cottage cheese custard over the apricot layer. Return the pie to the oven and finish baking in a slow (325 degrees F.) oven.

APRICOT COTTAGE CHEESE PIE

Apricot Layer

2 cups mashed cooked apricot
1 teaspoon lemon extract
Mix ingredients well.

Cottage Cheese Custard

1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
Add sugar and salt to eggs. Mix well. Add milk, vanilla extract and cheese. Blend ingredients thoroughly.

Pastry

1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle water over flour mixture and mix to a dry crumbly dough. Turn out on lightly floured pastry cloth. Press dough together. Roll out about one-eighth inch thick. Line deep nine-inch pie pan. Trim and flute edge of pastry. Prick with fork.

Spread apricot layer evenly into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Pour cottage cheese custard over apricots in pie shell. Reduce heat to slow (325 degrees F.) and continue baking 50 minutes. Garnish with whipped cream and cooked apricot halves, if desired. Yield: one nine-inch pie.

State law inflicts heavy fines, jail on 'bonfire bugs'

Residents of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, or Palatine who build bonfires are not only breaking village ordinances, but are also infringing a state law, according to fire department officials in the above towns.

Section 33 of chapter 38 of Illinois State law makes it illegal for any person to willfully set fire to grasslands, and includes a fine of $100 or six months in jail or both.

The state law in detail says: 53. Of Fields, crops, woods or grasslands—Unextinguished fires—penalty.

18 (a) If any person shall willfully set on fire or cause to be set on fire any lands, fields, crops, woods or grasslands, not his own; or shall knowingly permit any fire to pass from his own lands to the injury or destruction of the property of any other person, he shall be fined not exceeding $100.00, or be imprisoned in the county jail, not exceeding six months, or both.

(b) If any person shall negligently or carelessly cause a fire by means of a lighted match, cigar, cigarette, or other burning article, which damages property not his own; or shall start a fire on land or property, not his own, or upon any public highway in the State of Illinois, and negligently or carelessly leave said fire unextinguished, whereby any damage shall be done, such person shall be fined not exceeding $100.00.

As amended by the act approved July 13, 1947.

'Heart' tag day this Saturday

The Volunteers of America's Annual "Heart" Tag Day has been scheduled in Arlington Heights for Saturday, August 21, by permission of the president of the Board of Trustees of the village.

In rounding out its 52nd year of devoted benevolent service, this organization with its diversified program today fills a very definite place in the life of our times.

Conceived as a religious-social organization by its founders, Gen. and Mrs. Ballington Booth, its many welfare activities are extended to all persons, regardless of creed, race or color.

IN ADDITION to their far reaching work among the underprivileged in all parts of our country, the homeless elderly folk in need of care and protection, the children's homes and nurseries, the summer camps, the foreign born who desire to become Americanized, the homes for women and girls in distress, the Volunteers of America performs a very positive character building program among the youth, a good move toward a great need; that is especially gratifying to their thousands of highly specialized leaders. Young people have been invited to lend their service for the day and help in selling of "Hearts." Girls and boys responding to this call of service are offered cash awards donated by friends or movie tickets given through the generosity of the manager of the Arlington theatre, for their efforts in this worthy cause. They will meet with their chairman for the day, Miss Florence Zwane, at 9 o'clock at the municipal building.

It's hard to believe, but it's true.

Our expenses—fuel, wages, and materials—have risen rapidly during the last two years. Coal alone has gone up 26%.

Although these expenses have been rising, increased output resulting in abnormally high use of equipment has served to offset somewhat the effect of these rising costs.

All-Star contest, then 15 games for champ Cards

Chicago Cardinals, 1947 champions of the National professional football league, open competition officially Friday night of this week when they meet the All-Stars at Soldier Field. Reams of copy have told the fans what may happen on the gridiron that night, the first time the Cardinals will represent the boys who play for pay in the annual classic.

We don't intend to guess the winner, nor add fuel to the fire of which brand of football is best, but will just be down there watching last year's best in college circles giving Coach Jimmy Conzelmann a charge of a whale of a battle.

THE CARDS have announced a schedule of fifteen regularly scheduled contests for this fall and winter, with three exhibitions against Washington, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh opening festivities.

League play starts for the champions with two night games at Comiskey Park. Philadelphia comes to town Friday, September 24, while the Bears travel cross-town Monday, October 4, for an eight affairs.

The Cards play twelve league contests, meeting western rivals away and at home. They meet all but Washington of the eastern division once. Final contest, as usual, will be at Wrigley

Field against the Bears.

THAT FINAL game has many times been crucial for at least the Bears, and last year for the Cards as well. The Bears invariably must win that game to gain a possible championship, while last year the Cards needed victory to avoid a playoff with the Bears for the Western division trophy.

Complete schedule for the Cardinals follows:

Sept. 6—Chicago vs. Washington at Denver.

Sept. 10—Chicago at Philadelphia.

Sept. 19—Chicago vs. Pittsburgh at Wrigley Field.

Sept. 24—Philadelphia at Chicago.

Oct. 4—Bears at Cardinals.

Oct. 10—Chicago vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee.

Oct. 17—Chicago at New York.

Oct. 24—Boston at Chicago.

Oct. 31—Chicago at Los Angeles.

Nov. 7—Detroit at Chicago.

Nov. 14—Chicago at Pittsburgh.

Nov. 21—Los Angeles at Chicago.

Nov. 25—Chicago at Detroit.

Dec. 5—Green Bay at Chicago.

Dec. 12—Cardinals at Bears.

Three Arlington flyers enter 'machines' in Bendix races

The Bendix air races on September 4, 5, and 6 will get a touch of Arlington Heights local color when Earl and Ray Reinert and Wally Granzen, all of Arlington Heights, compete for $65,000 in prizes.

Their P-47 will be flown by Jane Page, formerly of Wilmette, who last year won $1,000 in the same race. At that time she flew another plane owned by Earl Reinert and was the only woman to finish in the flight. Miss Page is a former Wasp pilot.

ACCORDING TO the owners, Miss Page will fly at 40,000 feet and hopes to complete the race in four hours. The plane has 2200 horsepower and a 500 m.p.h. speed. It is equipped with a special B-29 bomber propeller, special turbo and radio equipment. The plane is now in Burbank, California, for reconditioning.

Ray Reinert (bottom photo) plans to enter his twin-engine P-38 fighter plane in the $40,000

Thompson trophy race on September 6 at Cleveland.

He hopes to qualify his 3,800 horsepower P-38 at 410 m.p.h., using 140-octane gas. The plane weighs 7 tons, ranges 4,000 miles and has a speed of 495 m.p.h. After the race, Ray will take an adventure trip to Kodiak, Alaska.

Lack of funds delays opening of grade school at Wauconda

Wauconda grade school was forced to suspend all building operations due to lack of funds. This means that there will not be any school before October 1.

At its regular monthly meeting held Tuesday night, Aug. 10, the grade school board invited all who cared to attend and express their opinions regarding a new bond issue. After a lengthy discussion, the board asked those present to indicate to the board their sentiments in the matter—that is, whether or not the board

Redwings to play Oak Park here this Sunday

At 1:00 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, just two hours before game time, Elgin notified the Redwings that they would not be over to play their regularly scheduled game. That accounts for the fact that there was no game in Recreation Park last Sunday.

Two weeks ago Woodstock pulled the same unexcusable trick. Both teams decided they preferred to play in a greatly misnamed Illinois State semi-professional championship tournament being conducted in Elgin rather than to play their regularly scheduled games contracted for last May when the teams arranged their schedules.

IT'S A SURE bet, the first since the Arlington Park Race track closed several weeks ago, that there will be games the next two Sundays. The Redwings will positively play host to Oak Park next Sunday and the following Sunday will again entertain the Chicago Firemen.

Oak Park defeated the Arlington team early in the season, 7-6, here, and the coming game should bring out some classy baseball. If the Firemen repeat their previous show their game will be one of those unusual affairs which last time was more entertaining than a circus side show.

THE NORTHEAST Illinois championship playoffs should have started this week but things are in such a mess because of unfinished schedules, by some teams, forfeited for failure to appear, for games, and rained out contests, that it is doubtful if the playoffs will be held.

Regardless of what happens to the League, the Redwings will be playing in Recreation Park for sure. Oak Park will be the guest Sunday and the rowdy Chicago Firemen, who lost their first game here several weeks ago, will be back to get revenge.

should again go to the voters with a new bond issue in the amount of $125,000, so as to complete the entire project as originally planned. The audience, composed of both parents and non-parents, totaled 4 to 1 in favor of a new $125,000 bond issue so as to complete the entire project.

Accordingly, the board followed the wishes of the majority of those present and voted 5 to 0 in favor of submitting to the voters a new bond issue in the amount of $125,000.

Then the board, also by a vote of 5 to 0, set the date of the new election for Saturday, August 21, between the hours of 12 noon and 7 p. m. at the Wauconda grade school.

BY GERALD McELROY

Next Wednesday high school football coaches start the race against time according to a plan set up by the state high school association. High schools may not start practice before August 25 and must have three weeks practice before they may play a game. As most schools want to start their game schedule as early as possible to take ad-date in the semester of competition in order to play with eligibility lists mailed to rival schools at least five days prior to entry school competition; (3) a boy cannot compete after he reaches the age of 20; (4) a boy may not compete unless his parents live in the school district where he goes to school unless he is in a non-high district or has a waiver from the district where his parents live which has been approved by the state office; (5) a boy may not compete if he has accepted pay for playing, accepted an award of more than $1.00 value, played on a team with a professional player, or played on an out of school team during the school year without his principal's permission; (6) a boy is not eligible for the semester if he does not enroll and attend during the first 10 days school is in session or if he misses school for 10 or more consecutive days for any other reason than illness; (7) no boy may play without having a physical examination and written approval of a physician. These rules indicate that schools today safeguard the health of students, place scholarship ahead of athletic ability, and prevent schools from bringing in ringers to build up strong teams. Athletics are conducted on a much higher plane than they were years ago.

Local high school students covered by accident insurance

Athletic insurance is one of the important considerations when it comes to football. Football cannot be played without some insurance for it is a rough, tough game where boys learn to take hard knocks. The physical risk is decreased through hard practice and strict observance of training rules. The financial risk is lessened by insurance. At Palatine, Bensenville, and Arlington high schools all the students are insured in a blanket coverage for 50c a pupil, collected in enrollment fees. Then for a flat amount all athletes are insured against injury for all sports.

As a usual thing the insurance covers just about the full medical and hospital bill. Though schools legally have no responsibility for paying medical bills, they find it brings better feeling all around to handle this through insurance. This insurance is through the Illinois Educational Association Mutual Insurance Company sponsored by the state teachers association. Last year Palatine had claims ranging from $3.00 for sprained fingers to $450.00 as a death benefit in the case of the tragic senior picnic swimming accident. Actually there were more claims last year for students not in athletics than those playing football. Insurance covers all school sponsored activities in which students take part.

Summarize important eligibility rules

The question often arises as to who is eligible to play in high school athletics. There are a lot of state eligibility rules but the main ones are that (1) a boy must have passed in three solid subjects in the previous semester or forfeit eligibility for one full semester; (2) a boy must be passing in three solid subjects to

Tackle Fred Davis looks forward to 3rd year with Bears

Fred Davis, who was generally regarded as the outstanding tackle in pro football last fall, reports he is set for the greatest season of his career.

This will be Fred's third season with the Chicago Bears, and he is looking forward to it with the same enthusiasm as a rookie. One of the reasons is a gent named Paul Stenn.

Back in 1944, with the Fourth Air Force at March Field, California, Davis and Stenn formed the mightiest tackle combination in service ball. Davis received his honorable discharge in time to join the Washington Redskins and play in the National Football League championship game.

Stenn and he were to have played together the following season, but Washington decided to trade Davis to the Los Angeles Rams, who in turn swapped him to the Bears for Tom Harmon.

Stenn went to Pittsburgh the following season. It began to look as though Big Fred and his pal, Stenn, would remain on the opposing side. However, Davis is wearing a broad smile these days, for the Bears, by giving up Fred Hartman and Walter Pupa, obtained Stenn some weeks back from Pittsburgh.

Remodeling at Old Hawthorne

Old Hawthorne is taking on a "new look" from both the rear and front views of the race track. During the past 10 months, Robert F. Carey, managing director of the 57-year-old plant, has been supervising many improvements.

One of the biggest is the building of a fire-proof brick barn that extends more than 2750 feet along the southeast end of the track. This new building has 250 stalls which now brings the total of stalls on the site up to 1250. Including close-by Sportsman's Park which has 350 more, the Hawthorne-Sportsman combination can take care of 1600 horses. While most of the wooden barns are comparatively new, Carey announced that in a few years the entire stable area will be built entirely of brick.

The new clubhouse entrance on the Laramie avenue side is a vast improvement over the old entrance in the middle of the track. The new gate is spacious and is just a few feet away from the clubhouse parking lot.

The Hawthorne meeting will open on Tuesday, Sept. 7 and run through Saturday, October 16.

It's Calumet vs With Pleasure again Saturday

Two events of exceptional interest mark this week's schedule of racing at Washington Park:

J. A. Goodwin's Papa Redbird, winner of the Arlington Classic, is scheduled to tune up for his American Derby engagement by running in the $25,000 Drexel Handicap at a mile on Thursday. His opposition probably will include Calumet Farm's spring sensation, Countdown, who raced back to his early season form when he won a recent allowance event.

Saturday will come the $40,000 Whirlaway Stakes, in which Fervent will undertake to make it three victories for Warren Wright's colors in three presentations of this event, named in honor of the Calumet champion of previous years. In 1946 and 1947 it was won by Armed. Brodie Farm's With Pleasure, who finished second in last year's Whirlaway Stakes after one of his most colorful duels with Armed, will be on hand again to oppose the present Calumet representative.

IF PAPA Redbird should win the Drexel he will be repeating a performance given at Arlington Park where he won the Dick Welles Stakes, a preparatory event for the Classic. In the American Derby, however, he is expected to have Citation to deal with. Trainer Jimmy Jones brought Citation into the paddock between races the other day "just to let him know that his vacation is over," as he put it. He is going steadily ahead in preparing the colt to resume defense of his three year old championship.

Dixiana's Shy Guy and Augustus and Nahn's Loujac, who finished two-three behind Papa Redbird in the Classic are also among the nominees for the Drexel who are pointing for the American Derby. Countdown is not eligible for the Derby as no one realized his potentialities when nominations closed last fall.

In addition to Fervent and With Pleasure, the contenders in the Whirlaway Stakes include Stud Poker, winner of the $50,000 Arlington Handicap and the recent $25,000 Meadowland Star Reward, winner of the $25,000 Sheridan Handicap, in which he defeated Fervent, With Pleasure and others at a mile; Colossal, Daily Dip, Eternal Reward, Jack S. L. and other good stake performers.

Meneguini issues call to all boys for Wednesday

Bensenville Bisons, football co-champs of the Northwest conference last year, will take to the field Wednesday of next week in the first practice of the year. Again it will be Coach Tom Meneguini coaching the varsity group, while Frank Navotney will be at the helm for the frosh-soph.

The DuPage county aggregation will be minus many of its stars of last year, including Thollander, Steffensen, Pittman, Gaspar and Robertson of all-conference fame.

But heading the list of six returning lettermen are Vuglar at center and Baldwin at end, both of whom received conference mention last season. Others include Yeazole at guard, Miller at tackle, and Komay and Baldwin in the backfield.

DES LAURIES and Dockerman, end and guard, were subs on the varsity last year, who will also be back this fall to give Coach Meneguini experienced help for his hopes of repeating at the top of the heap when the final game is tabulated.

Twenty-five boys from last year's frosh-soph eleven will be on hand to round out the Bensenville team. Most of these boys are comparatively unknown as far as varsity competition is concerned, and several outstanding players may be culled from the group by the time of the first game, September 18, at Hinsdale.

Coach Meneguini plans to open practice August 25, the "legal date," though may not issue suits until after the first week. There is expected to be a good many freshmen on hand for later transfer to the yearlings' squad, but who will work out with the varsity probably until school starts.

NEW BLEACHERS have been erected on the Bison field, and the grass is green, instead of the hay hurriedly added to the playing field in time for the first night encounter last year.

Last season's seats were rented affairs, while this year the board of education purchased wooden bleachers seating 1100. Grass planted last spring has given the gridiron a finished look. A fence has been set up around the field to control the crowds.

Eddie's Liquors moves in front as league nears end

After the 16th night of play the standings are as follows:

Effective living is good mental hygiene

Stop brooding over your shortcomings and put greater emphasis on your abilities. Nobody can be 100 per cent, so be realistic in assessing yourself. That way, you will live a more effective life, Prof. A. C. Van Dusen, Northwestern University psychologist, advises.

"We all recognize, although sometimes subconsciously, the physical needs which motivate us," he said in a discussion of mental hygiene, "but fail to analyze our psychological needs, which are more important, in meeting everyday problems."

Our basic psychological needs, he explained, are a feeling of security and a sense of adequacy and independence. Contributing to security are affection, attention "belonging," and sensory satisfaction. A feeling of adequacy and independence is based on achievement and recognition.

"That important factor, achievement, can't be secured if we aim too high," he said. "It's all right, of course, to have ambition, but it ought to take directions in accordance with abilities."

PARENTS and teachers, particularly, need good mental hygiene, Prof. Van Dusen pointed out. It is they who provide the atmosphere in which children develop psychologically. If the mother or father, or the classroom mentor, is unadjusted or frustrated, a negative influence is exerted over the youngsters, creating an atmosphere of insecurity in which it is difficult for children to build good mental hygiene.

In both adults and children, barriers to a feeling of security and independence usually are social, that is, other persons. It is vital for everyone to realize that democratic society is so constructed that each of us is both subordinate and superior to some one else.

In the home, the child is subordinate to the parents, completely dependent at first, then gradually more self-sufficient as the years pass. In business and the professions, from the lowliest clerk to the president of the company, every employee is subordinate to another, at the same time that he is subordinate to the man above him. In other words, even the head of the firm has dependency relations, perhaps being subordinate to the chairman of the board and the stockholders.

EFFECTIVE mental hygiene relies on the individual's adjustment to this situation, Prof. Van Dusen declared. In both the home and the office, several policies will help to provide satisfactory domestic and employer-employee relations and assist the subordinate person in feeling secure.

First among these is an "atmosphere of approval." Nobody can be successful in an arid atmosphere in which nobody ever indicates to him that he is doing a job to the best of his ability.

The subordinate also has a right to know what's expected of him. Vagueness is distressing, conducive to a feeling of insecurity.

If there's to be a change in home or office which may directly affect the individual, that person can adjust more satisfactorily to it if he is forewarned and has been given an explanation.

CONSISTENCY of discipline is vital. It's extremely essential to

ASBESTOS DISHTOWEL

The same asbestos that makes shingles for house roofs has come to the kitchen to aid housewives in their dishwashing job. A new cotton-asbestos dishtowel will wipe dishes faster and dryer, according to the National Cotton Council. The dishtowel contains 20 per cent asbestos fiber and 80 per cent cotton.

support a person when he's right and to reprimand him when he's wrong. Don't sit on a fence or adopt a turnabout policy.

Children and employees in subordinate positions deserve to enjoy participation in operations of either the home or the business. It gives them a feeling of "belonging."

Parents and bosses alike will do well to give subordinates responsibility when they're ready for it. Not to give it at all, or to give it too soon, is damaging to morale.

Everyone can have good mental hygiene, psychologist Van Dusen summed up. The important thing is objective self-analysis of basic psychological needs, which can be recognized as readily as thirst and hunger. Find out what's standing in the way of satisfaction of needs and how to work out a solution which is both personally satisfying and acceptable to society.

Feed for Hogs

Hogs weighing 75 to 125 pounds should have a feed containing 16-17 per cent protein. Above 125 pounds, 15 per cent is satisfactory.

TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahlin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

A "taxpayers' platform" was submitted by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois to the Platform Committee of the Democratic State Central Committee last Friday at Springfield, and an identical statement was sent to the Republican Central Committee. The "taxpayers' platform" as submitted follows:

"Adequate national defense, good schools, roads, fire and police protection and other governmental services are essential and can only be provided through taxes. However, government is today costing the American people literally billions of dollars more than they spend for food. The high cost of government is reflected in the high cost of living, since taxes are a part of the cost of farming, manufacturing, and running any business.

"We believe the Platform should include a strong statement for elimination of every possible dollar waste, extravagance, inefficiency and non-essential spending from government—local, state and federal.

"Public works of any kind that are undertaken now, when they could in fact be deferred, mean private houses that can't be built—mean cement, bricks, steel, wood and other materials, some still very scarce, that can't be obtained for private housing construction—and such public works, that could have been deferred, also mean that the taxpayers are paying today's extremely high costs.

"We believe the Platform should contain a strong statement for deferment by local, state and federal governments of all public works that are not of an emergency nature, so as not to impede building of essential private housing now, to provide a market for materials and jobs for labor if and when the present bubble bursts, and to protect the taxpayers from paying today's prices.

"We believe the Platform should strongly affirm that the citizens have the positive right to vote on any proposals by state or local governments for new taxes... for bond issues... or to increase any present taxes above their present ceiling limitations, and that the citizens should have ample notice of such proposals and elections. This puts the burden on government to sell its people on need...

"Although the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois opposed the 100% assessment program when it was enacted at the 1945 session of the General Assembly, by now local assessments have been drastically changed from 1945 levels throughout the state. Consequently, we are strongly convinced that repeal of the 100% assessment laws now would make all tax rate limitations meaningless and could have only a disastrous effect on the taxpayers.

"We also are thoroughly convinced that the taxpayers owe a debt of gratitude to members of the General Assembly for enacting House Bill 513 at the 1947 session, protecting the taxpayers against excessive taxing power. We also know that, where local tax bills skyrocketed this year, it was generally due to school tax increases authorized by the people themselves at elections."

Our Friend, the Elephant

Elephants, rarely born in captivity, come from Asia or Africa. They are usually strangers to peanuts until they reach America's shores. They swallow water not through their trunks but by sucking it part way through, then squirting it into their mouths. Insects drive them nearly crazy in hot weather, despite the fact that shaving their hides with a blowtorch flame merely tickles them.

Wristwatch stolen from Glenview home

A lady's wristwatch, set with diamonds and valued at $400, was taken from the Roy Belnap home, 1204 Westview road, August 5. Mrs. Belnap reported to the police. It was removed from a kitchen window sill some time between 9 and 10:10 a. m. that day. Mrs. Belnap had gone out at 9 o'clock, leaving the door open for a domestic who was due at 9:30. She returned at 10:10 to discover the watch missing.

Mrs. Earl Hutchings, 1147 Waukegan road, reported seeing a teen age youth at the window of her home August 3. He ran away as she approached the window. The Hutchings home was broken into July 28 when a prowler gained entry by removing a screen. A $20 bill was stolen.

Teen-age drivers reckless autoists

Are teen-age drivers as reckless as older folks say they are? The National Safety Council says the answer is "yes."

The 1945 edition of "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook includes studies made of accident rates of drivers in various age groups. These studies show that the fatal accident rate in terms of miles driven by youngsters under 20 was 89 per cent higher than the average rate for all drivers.

The Council believes driver training courses in high schools and colleges are a big part of the answer to the problem. Better examples by parents and other older drivers would help a lot too, it says.

Your weekly treat recipe

Now is the time to serve soft fruits with cottage cheese. A very colorful and nutritious salad is made using your molded cottage cheese with the many different soft fruits: apricots, plums, peaches, cherries and grapes. The molded cottage cheese surrounded by the soft fruits presents a real summer-time taste treat.

1 teaspoon salt.
1 green pepper (chopped)
1 can pimiento (cut fine)

French dressing
2 tbsps. gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ pt. whipping cream (whipped)
Apricot or peach halves, sweet cherries.

Method: Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Put cheese through ricer or sieve, add salt, green pepper and pimiento. Stir in gelatin and mix well. Fold in the whipped cream. Pour into ring mold that has been rinsed in cold water and let stand for several hours in refrigerator. Turn out on bed of lettuce and arrange border of peach or apricot halves. Fill center of ring with pitted cherries. Serve with French dressing.

Announce results of Palatine primary election

Palatine's first experience with the new primary law resulted in an interesting contest in the first precinct. There were two contests on for committeemen. M. Reynolds received 52 votes, against 34 for Hackbart. The Democratic contest was against I. M. Kuebler and Henry Pahlman. Kuebler received 25 votes against 16 for Pahlman.

There were 148 votes cast in the first precinct, 106 Republican and 42 Democratic, while in the second precinct there were 96 Republican, 16 Democratic and 1 Prohibition.

The following shows the vote on some of the candidates:

Buffalo Grove nine beats Park Ridge

Another victory was chalked up for Buffalo Grove last Sunday as they beat the Park Ridge baseball team.

Clean Weidner held all the visitors safe at all stages, striking out twelve men. Henry Firnbach made the Ridge twirler nervous by slamming a three-bagger in the fourth, and King Joe gave the sphere a jolt in the ninth that brought in two.

This makes 14 won and 1 lost.

The next game will be with a Chicago association team August 26. Don't fail to see the game.

Republican clubs hold election at Arlington

Republican clubs were hastily called together at Arlington hall Monday evening, where the following officers were elected.

Precinct 1: E. H. Bolte, president; Frank White, secretary; Herman Garms, Wm. Kirchhoff, Ben Gerken, Geo. K. Volz, Emil Sieburg, Chas. Klehm, James Williams and Julius Flentje, advisory board. Precinct 2: W. E. Shirra, president; J. P. Hausman, vice-president; A. F. Volz, secretary; Wm. Thieman, treasurer; and advisory board to be announced later.

Presidents of committees of various districts are: C. E. Julian, Palatine 1; C. D. Taylor, Palatine 2; John Fenz, Schaumburg; E. H. Bolte, Wheeling 1; W. E. Shirra, Wheeling 2; John Rohlwing, Elk Grove 1; William Wille, Elk Grove 2.

William Busse was elected district committeeman; A. F. Volz, president; R. Bray, vice-president; R. L. Peck, secretary; and J. C. Plagge, treasurer.

Editor's steed scares horseless carriage

Supervisor John Rohlwing of Elk Grove, rolled out and dusted his 60 h. p. touring car July 26, and accompanied by his wife, took their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oldendorf, for an automobile ride to the Hanover Sunday school picnic.

All had a delightful time greeting many friends. On their homeward trip, their auto (being coy and bashful, like a maiden that has stayed at home) shied at the editor's fast team, and their chauffeur had to make strenuous efforts to keep the machine from going in the ditch.

Bryan accepts Democratic nomination for President

Williams Jennings Bryan was formally notified of his nomination by the Democratic party for the presidency of the United States. Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, was the spokesman. Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance said in part:

"In the name of the Democratic party, I accept the challenge and charge that the Republican party is responsible for all the abuses which exist in the federal government. The Republican platform openly disappoints the hopes and expectations of reformers."

Taft's friends have been promising for years he would attack the iniquities of the tariff. As the present campaign approached, both the president (Roosevelt) and Mr. Taft favored tariff revision but set the date of revision after the election.

"Mr. Taft complains of the over-issue of stocks and bonds for protection of the public. Why? For a generation, the Republican party has drawn campaign funds from the beneficiaries of special legislation."

"The platform of our party closes with this idea: It favors an administration of the government as will insure, as far as human wisdom can, that each citizen shall draw from society a reward commensurate with his contribution to the welfare of society."

GARDEN SHOW

Palatine Park Garden club will hold their second annual flower and garden show on Saturday, August 28, at the high school. The show will be open to the public at 2 p. m. and will last through the afternoon and evening.

If you missed last year's show, you missed a real treat, and if you miss this year's show, you'll miss a greater treat. With experience gained from last year, the club is bound to put on a bigger and better exposition. Entries are not confined to club members; the public is invited to participate.

The ladies of the Palatine Park Garden club have been hard at work since last winter planning for the show and during the spring and summer have been busy in their gardens raising choice products for the exhibit. Last year's show of this youthful Garden club was a beauty that would have done credit to a much larger organization.

With the enthusiasm of members, and a good growing season for flowers, we can readily see this year's show will really be something worth seeing. Come out and see the show; enter your pet plant and take part in the show.

Palatine farmers, who have just harvested a bumper grain crop, also have a wonderful corn crop in the making. Now come to the Garden club show, and see what gardeners and flower growers can do.

THE KATYDIDS

The Katydids are here — the first ones were reported in Palatine on August 9 by Bill Kehe and George Butler.

And now comes the old discussion of how long it will be before the first killing frost. George Butler says 90 days. Jerry Acree, mayor of Katydid Hollow down on the south side, says the "katys" are "singing" all over the place and that means six weeks to the first frost. If George is right we won't have a killing frost 'til November 9. If Jerry is right, the date will be September 20. And a funny thing about those Katydids — they seem to favor settling on the south side of the tracks. North side residents hear one occasionally, but it's nothing like the din on the south side.

But Jerry and some of those south siders like it, and they wouldn't feel at home if some of those Katydids didn't serenade them this time of year.

SEVERE REMEDY

Some Palatine folks on the north side of town have solved the problem of the thousands of blackbirds in trees each evening. They have cut down the trees.

This seems like a pretty severe remedy to us, like killing the patient to cure the disease, but those blame blackbirds have so gotten on people's nerves, the residents were ready to take any measures to get rid of the pests.

But even with the trees gone, the birds just seem to pile into nearby trees just that much thicker, and the noise is still plenty audible to the treeless folks.

We read about an eastern town that got rid of blackbirds by planting dummy owls in the trees. When the blackbirds saw those things, they moved on to other quarters.

DOWN

Officer Meyer was out in Palatine bright and early Friday morning with his "vacuum cleaner," sucking pennies and nickels out of parking meters, but the officer wasn't so happy.

"Not going to be so good this week," he said. "Not so many cars around, and the carnival got most of the pennies and nickels."

And George was right. The take fell to $122.39, and as one woman remarked to George as she strolled down the street with her arms laden with bundles, "Have to save our pennies for the carnival." But now the carnival is over, and George hopes for a pick-up in business.

GOOD IDEA

A correspondent recently made a bright suggestion. Cross a parking meter with a slot machine, he stated, and you'd get some sort of a thing that would shell out a jackpot occasionally. That would help keep folks good-natured, especially if they had to rush out to put in a penny or nickel when delayed.

LOST CAR

Oscar Plote, of Palatine, is driving a new car these days, and thereby hangs a tale.

Oscar's auto was stolen one evening, and he reported it to county police, who radioed for a look-out for the car. Somehow or other local police didn't hear anything about it.

Four or five days later a local householder, living about a block from the loop, told some friends a car had been parked in the street for nearly a week. Police investigated and there was Oscar's car.

Luckily, Oscar was able to get a new car in a hurry, and when he got the old one back, he found a ready sale for it.

WHAT MAN FORGOT

We are living in a fast-moving age where the spirit of change is in the air, and too often the spirit is "we first and devil take the hindmost."

Tob often these hectic days the past is forgotten, and things of the past are left to mold and rot. Such is the condition of the little cemeteries around Palatine township in which are buried many of Palatine's pioneers.

The condition of some of these cemeteries is a disgrace to a civilized community. An example is the little cemetery near Kitty Corner on the road to Long Grove. It's completely overgrown with weeds and sumac bushes, and is a veritable wilderness. If one will brave the jungles and risk a broken leg by falling in groundhog holes, he will find names of many area pioneers engraved on stones which are surprisingly well-preserved.

Some of the names are Boynton, 1854, Fleming 1849, Cook, 1858, Sales, 1863, of the 115th regiment; wife of D. B. Wood, 1830 (D. B. Wood was a pioneer Palatine merchant whose store was at Plum Grove and Slade street where the Schrage house now stands); and many others.

Recently an old timer, a resident of the neighborhood, was buried in that cemetery, and a path had to be cleared and the burial lot cleared off before the burial could take place.

All living relatives of those who lie buried in that cemetery may have passed on. No one is left, no one cares. Somehow, provision should be made that public funds be used for the care of these deserted cemeteries. The last resting place of these early settlers should not be a jungle of waste.

FLORIDA RUSH

We've heard of the Florida rush in the winter when folks were escaping from northern winters, but when the station agent reported the other morning he couldn't get a reservation

SUES COAL CO.

Suit has been filed in the Superior court against the Meyer Coal and Material Co., by LaVerne Garland, of Des Plaines, for $2,660 damages. She has a florist business at 1927 Rand road and in 1944 engaged the company to deliver a lot of coal there. She says they used a machine to pack the coal down in the storage bin so hard it caused a brick wall to collapse. This made her extra expense for rebuilding the wall.

SUES FOR INJURIES

LeRoy Borre, a minor, aged 5, by his father, Joseph Borre, has sued LaVerne Mullins, in Circuit court at Chicago for $25,000 damages for injuries when hit by his automobile while walking at the intersection of Jefferson st. and Rt. 42A in Glenview June 25. The boy had just alighted from a bus at the intersection. He was hit by Mullins' car, knocked down and seriously injured it is alleged.

on a Miami bound train for a patron, we couldn't believe it. "I can't get a reservation even for two days in advance, the train is sold out and has been for a week, and there's a waiting list of 50 people," he told the would-be traveler.

Why the rush to Florida in August? The Far South is always a summer resort area for people of the Middle South, the Inland South as it is called, but the sudden interest of Northerners is really a new one for the book.

BIRD MIGRATION

Martins started to gather for their flight to the South land about 10 days ago, several weeks ahead of normal schedule. Blackbirds, too have been flocking for some time, but they won't be taking off for some time yet. Robins have been "bunching up," and bluejays are getting noisy, all of which are signs of fall.

Let's hope these early signs don't materialize into one of those early frosts. We need a nice, long warm fall for the crop which has been held back these cool August evenings. At any rate, the farmers are a pretty well satisfied lot with fine small grain crops, beans doing well, and prospects for a bumper corn crop.

PICTURES WANTED

Palatine American Legion post is interested in securing pictures of Memorial Day parades in which the unit has taken part for many years.

The boys want negatives of these events for large prints to have on the walls of the new Legion home. If anyone has any pictures, contact any member of the Legion and the boys will appreciate the cooperation.

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

PARKING METERS

Many of the complaints about parking meters come from people who have no change, then get a ticket while they are supposedly in a store getting some. A cure was suggested to me the other day that might solve the problem.

Let's equip our ever-present George on the beat with one of those coin changers like the street car conductors use. Then people can just come up to George with a bill or large coin, he'll flip a lever, and the customer will get his nickel or pennies promptly.

It was also suggested the officer carry transfers, also like street cars, where you could get the rest of your nickel's worth on another meter in case you left the first spot before the sixty minutes were up.

WATER BALLET

Water ballet at Arlington Heights park district pool closed Saturday, August 14, which was the proper time to extend our thanks to Al Blume, Frank V. Kac and most of all, to Esther Karstens. A simple thanks seems inadequate for the enormous job each of these undertook.

Citizens of Arlington Heights saw the finale of the work these few people accomplished this season at the water show. It is these same people who are making Arlington the "ideal" community.

Though I am only one member of the ballet group, I believe the other twenty would echo the

MOTORCYCLES

Many figures who believe motorcycles to be a nuisance do not realize there are now over 24,000 of them licensed in the state of Illinois alone.

They provide a cheap means of transportation and healthful recreation that fits in with the government's program of saving fuel.

If they seem dangerous, they are so only to the person riding them. No one ever heard of a person in a car being hurt because a motorcyclist cut him off or hit him. And you can't get on them, go to sleep running them, or stay upright when pifficated. They pay their taxes asked by law for the use of the roads, and the same price for gasoline and insurance autoists do. This doesn't excuse the wild riders and noisemakers at all, but they are in the minority, and not looked upon with approval by the majority of cycle riders. But it is just as wrong to condemn all motorcyclists because of a few as it is to condemn all motorists because of a few bad ones.

If you don't like them, stay off of them, but the fellow or girl who does like them have the same rights and privileges in this country of ours as a hunter, bronco buster, or model airplane bug.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I have heard the term "The average person" used so often that I fell to wondering just what an average person is. I began comparing every person I could think of with every other person, and the only way in which I could see that people were alike was in the possession of their arms, legs, head, hands and so forth. As for "the average person"—he just doesn't exist.

Try comparing the five senses of different people. A thing that tastes sour to one will be tasteless to another. Witnesses at a trial sometimes see and hear so many contradicting things at the scene of an accident or crime that their testimony, given in all earnestness as the truth as they saw it, completely confuses jurors and judge alike. Then there are the tests which psychologists have applied to ascertain the reaction of different people to pain, heat, sound and so forth. In some cases there is a tremendous variation, and in no two persons are the reactions ever the same.

There are two hundred and fifty-odd religions in this nation, and in any given church there are as many different interpretations of its religious precepts as there are members. Every human voice varies from every other voice, so that when a conversation is going on between your friends in another room, you can distinguish the person speaking merely by the sound of his voice.

Woman foils footpad to save her purse

A youthful footpad was foiled in an attempt to steal her purse by the tenacity of Mrs. William Keen, Sycamore ave., Mundelein, last week. In a tussle with the purse snatcher at Milwaukee and Maple aves., Mrs. Keen was knocked to the pavement. Her glasses were broken and she suffered injuries to her arms and one leg, but she held onto her purse.

Screams of Mrs. Keen and her companion, Mrs. Hugo Wedde, a sister, of Superior, Wis., and the barking of a dog attracted several persons in the vicinity. Dr. B. E. Christensen, William Decker Jr., Jack Hoskins and a Chicago taxicab driver chased the culprit through rear lawns, but did not apprehend him.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

DEAR JANE:

Haven't you at sometime come across a tucked-away place in the country and found yourself exclaiming: "Oh, it's the dearest, sweetest place! I'd love to fix it up just to my very own liking!" I think most women, at sometime or another, have wished to try their hand at renovating a once loved and cared for place, just for the pleasure of seeing it take on new life.

Such a place is "Twin Oaks," that cousin Georgia and her husband, Henry, found in the hills of Alden township a few days ago. We could tell that they were very excited about it when they came into our driveway one evening last week, and asked: "Would you like to go over and see it with us?" There are few other invitations that awaken my interest more. So Rob and I stepped into their car and in a few minutes we found ourselves turning into the entrance of "Twin Oaks."

The surrounding land is high in this area, and very wooded and hilly. Henry said it was not particularly good for farming. However, he was making comparison to the land on their own dairy farm in Chemung township. It is from this latter area large herds of Holstein and Guernsey cows provide the tremendous amount of milk that gives this part of northern Illinois the title of "Milk Center of the World." Or so the town's fathers advertise.

Most of the land around the one-floor-plan house at Twin Oaks, is forest, with oaks, elms in great numbers. One has the immediate feeling that the house is protected and sheltered by these tall spires of brown and green—they tower so high over the wee house. Close to the front entrance stand the two large oaks that give the place its name. In the process of growing they separated at four feet from the earth, dividing into "twin trees."

There is a small pond just to the left as one enters the driveway. It is set in a clearing among the trees and shrubs, and in my mind's eye I already see it filled with pink and white water lilies and gold fish swimming about. Around its edge I have built a rock garden in which perennial verberna and portulaca and other small flowers give color.

While going through the house I made mental notes of what I should like to do with it if it were mine. I know Georgia was doing the very same thing.

My first thought, since there are so many trees enveloping the house, would be to court the sun and the views, and what better way can one do this than by building picture windows? If I felt my purse would permit, I'd combine the living room and dining room into one room, with an extended bay on the south wall for a dining alcove. This bay would be almost entirely of glass. Then I'd do away with two small windows on either side of the beautiful field stone fireplace, enlarging that space to full length French doors that would permit one to step outside into a flower garden. I'd enlarge the kitchen, putting a breakfast nook bay on the south wall, and do away with an outside enclosed entrance to the basement which at present covers most of the east window of this quite important room. Since there is an enclosed porch across the entire front of the house, I'd like to build a small brick or flagstone terrace at the base of the fireplace chimney, where I could indulge myself extravagantly in very large pots of geraniums, and sunbathing. The bedrooms are on the north side of the house and look directly into the woods, so I'd enlarge the windows, making two small windows, s into one picture window, thereby bringing much of the outdoor beauty, indoors. One needn't sacrifice wall space indoors for beauty, because tables and chairs and low desks look very well if placed in front of picture windows.

Since gutters look incongruous when placed at oversize windows, I'd paint the trim of this white house either a dark brown or dark green, because I can't resist color—used with restraint, of course.

While we walked about the lawn at Twin Oaks, a feeling of restfulness and contentment seemed to settle down upon us. All of us spoke of this. There is a peaceful quality about the place that is most inviting. No doubt the new owners will miss the great activity which is ever present on a large farm, but at Twin Oaks they can turn their energies to less tiring projects which will be just as interesting, and perhaps, more beneficial to their good health. I can picture Georgia working in the flower garden she has always wanted, and I can see her and Henry on winter evenings reading before their fireplace. Can you think of a more pleasant occupation on a winter's evening, when the snow is flying in the country?

Chinese Tragedy

Doctor Ward's Notebook

Approximately 58 per cent of the children born in West and South China die before the age of 12. This appalling statement was made by Dr. Schauffler of Portland, Oregon who told of his experiences as a physician in China at the June meeting of the American Medical Association. This figure, added to the high incidence of abortion and miscarriage, forces every Chinese family to provide three pregnancies to one in our own country.

In the Orient, children — even girls in most instances — are considered economic assets. (Girls, however, certainly are not as highly regarded as boys. "Three out of four of the bloated little bodies floating down Soochow Creek in Shanghai or those left under dirty paper or gunny sacks in the streets of Chengtu are those of girls.") Unstudied and rather beautiful love for their children is the universal characteristic of the Chinese. There is no doubt that this basic emotion is a major compensation among their miseries. The initial act in the sex sequence and this later emotion indulgence may be the only respite in their unbroken wretchedness.

Gonorrhea is probably more prevalent in China than anywhere in the world. Debilitating diseases, including syphilis, are a prominent factor in the inability of the Chinese both to become pregnant and to maintain their pregnancies. There is a terrifying incidence of tuberculosis, and severe anemia is common among Chinese women.

Malnutrition and outright starvation — the rule rather than the exception — exert their toll, both directly and through exaggerated vitamin deficiencies with resultant lowered resistance. Here again not only maternal effects are involved but also the sickness and death of infants and children.

Mothers were seen breast-nursing five and six year old children, in the pitiful misunderstanding that the mother obtains this food for nothing and that this was an inexpensive means of feeding her children. No one, including the mother herself, measures the cost to her body in poor resistance to disease.

Dr. Schauffler reported ingrained stoicism and the absence of fear, especially the fear of death, among Chinese women. This, he said, contributed to their recovery from shock. Malaria, on the other hand, especially in Chungking, presented a difficult problem for the obstetrician in hundreds of instances.

Why do I submit this unsavory report from a distant — and, to many of us, unimportant — country? I would like to shock you. I would like to scare you. I would like to engrave on your mind's eye a picture of medicine and medical problems in a country not so fortunate as ours.

Too often we take our amazing medical progress for granted. We don't realize how tremendously important such a simple thing as inoculation of babies against diphtheria, whooping cough, and small pox can be to an entire nation.

Remember this, the next time you hear irresponsible talk about the regimentation of American medicine: our freedom of enterprise has produced the healthiest nation in the world; and a nation — just like an individual — must be healthy to be happy.

Lack of watershed protection caused Northwest floods say experts

Lack of fire protection on watersheds before 1935 has been given as the actual cause of widespread damage from last spring's disastrous floods in the Northwest, the Wildlife Management Institute reported. A crew of U. S. Forest Service watershed experts, which has been operating in the Columbia River basin since May 27, has reported its findings to the Chief, Lyle F. Watts.

The watershed technicians found ample evidence that flood damage would have been less severe if millions of upland acres had not been deprived of their forest cover. Fire proved to be the most important factor in denuding millions of the watershed acres, although improperly located logging, grazing, mine or smelter operations and road-building were other contributing factors.

ON LAND NOW in national forests in the Northwest there are 5,126,000 acres that have been burned over, mostly before 1935 when the Forest Service began giving this "Back country" intensive fire protection. The report points out that flood damage traceable to such lands, demonstrates the need for maintaining and improving fire protection and the wisdom of large-scale planting and re-seeding operations in basin highlands.

Present-day logging operations were found by the investigators to have been responsible for only a small percentage of the heavy run-off of rain and melting snows. A warning was issued, however, that the same practices might prove dangerous if operations progress up the slopes into higher, more critical areas.

Striking evidence that forests slow the rate of snow melt and delay water flow was observed by the investigators. As late as June 14, about 14 days after the flood peak, timbered areas in the uplands were still blanketed with snow while nearby burned areas were snowless. In many instances burned and denuded north and west slopes, though normally cooler, had lost all snow while timbered south and west slopes still were snowbound.

Another point brought out by the investigation is that, just as fires breed floods, so floods prepare the ground for future fires. Roads, trails, bridges, and telephone lines essential to the movement and direction of fire fighters and equipment, are out of service yet, with the critical fire season close at hand.

Bits o' business

Business should curve upward from now on through the holiday season, just about duplicating 1947 in volume but shading it appreciably in dollars. Most economists are cautious about forecasting beyond the end of 1948, however. Corporate earnings are on the way to another record year. Third-quarter freight car loadings are expected to be four per cent above those of the corresponding period in 1947. Group insurance is now a billion-dollar business. Exclusive of agriculture, American business is spending $4.6 billion for new plants and equipment during July, August and September. Fiscal experts say that the present tax level, both corporate and individual, will remain much the same for several years. Inventories of finished goods are up sharply, especially in non-durables. If fall demand should drop below expectations, manufacturers could be in for some difficulty.

Be alert for fake eye docs

Warning against fake eye doctors who are again operating in the midwest is given in the August 14 Prairie Farmer.

The fake eye specialists' racket is not new, because it was worked in 1928, 1940, and again in 1936. Here's how it operates, as described in Prairie Farmer:

These crooks travel in pairs, and work on elderly people outside of town, usually where no telephone wires lead into the house. The approach is a simple offer to sell eyeglasses at a low price. However, as soon as the intended victim begins to listen, Crook No. 1 "discovers" a shocking symptom in the victim's left eye. It just happens that out in the car is the great Dr. Whoosit. He brings the doctor, who comes down to look at the eye. He finds it afflicted with a terrific condition, maybe a cataract, but an especially bad kind with a long name. If not treated at once it will cause total blindness, maybe insanity, he says. It can be cured by "radium" quickly and painlessly, but it's expensive, and must be kept a secret.

The "operation" consists of putting some drops of a gelatin-like solution in the eye, then lifting out a piece of rubbery film supposed to be the cataract. Then they put on the bite for as much money as they think they can get. This was seldom less than $500, often nearer $1,000. Then they get away fast.

Of course the entire operation is a fake, worth nothing. Yet these confidence men have taken hundreds of thousands of dollars from their victims.

Two George S. Kaufman hits, "The Royal Family" and "The Man Who Came To Dinner," are the remaining shows at the Lake Zurich Playhouse. "The Royal Family," written in collaboration with Edna Ferber, will play August 25 to 29, Wednesday through Sunday. The royal family of the play has been compared to the Barrymore family in real life, since the story deals with the lives of four generations of an American family of actors. The central figure in the play is Julie Cavendish, who will be portrayed by Constance Charles. Her dashing brother Tony will be played by William J. Hanrahan, and their mother Fanny, by Jeanne Rappaport. Gerald E. McGonagill will play the part of Fanny's younger brother. The youngest member of the family, Julie's daughter Gwen, will be played by Audrey Dineen. This production will be under the capable direction of Bella D. Itkin. The setting designed by C. J. Bailey.

Next week the Lake Zurich Playhouse presents its last production of the season, Kaufman & Hart's "The Man Who Came To Dinner." Gerald E. McGonagill will be seen as "The Man," and Bobbie Collette as his secretary, Maggie. "The Man Who Came To Dinner" will play September 1 to 5.

Rocket exhibit opens at Museum of Science and Industry

An exhibit, showing the developments of Dr. Robert H. Goddard, American rocket pioneer, in the field of jet propulsion, was opened to the public Friday at the Museum of Science and Industry, 57th and Lake Michigan.

The exhibit makes available to the public for the first time, an opportunity to see the operating mechanism of rockets and to gain an insight into future uses of jet propulsion. Dr. Goddard's work is the basis for all of today's emphasis on research and experimentation in this field.

Feature of the exhibit is the 22-foot Goddard rocket, developed in the 1930's, incorporating many of the features later found in the German V-2 rocket missiles. It has been cut away so that the intricate interior arrangements of fuel lines, pumps, nozzles, injection systems, control devices and combustion chamber are clearly visible.

Dr. Goddard, who died in 1945, spent more than 30 years in rocket research, and with the aid of funds provided by the Guggenheim Foundation, established a laboratory and proving grounds at Roswell, N. M. When World War II began, his findings were turned over to the United States government and he continued his research for the U. S. Navy.

Luigi Galvani (1737-1798) was an Italian physician who experimented with frog legs in 1780. He discovered what he termed animal electricity. Some thought he had solved the mystery of life. What he actually discovered was the revelation that electricity is a current, that it flows.

Broadjumping car to thrill at fair

Broadjumping a speeding new 1949 automobile from one ramp to another while a second car races underneath is just one of 27 amazing stunts, crashes and races which will be attempted by famed racing and stunt driver Joie Chitwood and his troupe of 31 daredevil car and motorcycle drivers in the "Circus of Death" thrill show at the Cook County Fair which opens an 11-day stand at Soldier Field, Chicago, on August 27.

Policeman sleeps at wheel; two cars badly damaged

Two automobiles were badly damaged Monday morning of last week when a machine driven by a Chicago police officer crashed into the rear of another machine parked just off Northwest highway near Countryside Motors, Barrington. E. W. Baade, Barrington police chief, said that the officer admitted having fallen asleep at the wheel and crashing into the other machine.

The parked car was owned by Clarence Landt of Des Plaines, a mechanic at Countryside Motors. His car, struck from behind, was pushed into a utility pole and the front end also seriously crushed.

Handle eggs with care

Warm weather will put money into the corn crib, but it can take money out of the egg basket, unless you take certain precautions, according to Farm Advisor C. A. Hughes.

Frequent gathering and proper cooling of eggs, sufficient moisture, and a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees F. in the egg room are important in keeping egg quality in hot weather. Marketing eggs at least twice a week is a good way to help get them to the consumer in good condition.

Science, pressing investigations into nature's every mood, has created a snow crystal recorder to "get the jump" on all types of snowstorms. ## Milk supply is threatened by high cost

Consumers are finding it puzzling that while retail milk prices are the highest on record, production continues to drop steadily.

This was explained today by J. P. Mason, dairy marketing director of the Illinois Agricultural Association, in pointing out that prices paid producers have been moving upward at a slower rate than the cost of producing milk.

"In comparison with a general increase of 133 per cent in cost of all foods," Mason said, "milk has increased but 82 per cent to consumers since 1939. Dairy farmers are finding it more difficult to deliver milk to Grade A markets under these conditions."

"Labor is scarce on dairy farms and farmers are finding it more profitable to turn to other lines of agricultural production which require less hired help and offer better returns. As a result, cow numbers in Illinois are now at the lowest point they have been in 18 years," Mason said.

"This is being felt throughout the dairy industry and it is expected that shortages will become acute this fall and winter as milk production declines seasonally."

"This picture appears to be nationwide," Mason said. "The production goal of 120 billion pounds established early this year by the United States Department of Agriculture will not be met. It is expected that the total national milk production will not exceed 112 billion pounds."

It's important to keep hens cool

If you notice the heat on a hot summer day, then pity the poor biddy that's kept in the laying house.

Hot weather is hardest on layers in poorly ventilated hen houses, reminds Farm Advisor C. A. Hughes. And the problem isn't always solved by turning hens out of doors, as many flock owners do in the summer.

Hughes says to keep the laying house as cool as possible. It's not enough just to open the door or windows on one side. The house should be open on all sides and especially on the east and west ends. A good draft is necessary to pull the warm air out.

Fresh, cool water every day or several times a day will also help to keep the laying flock comfortable in hot weather.

FARMERS RECEIVE MORE MONEY FOR MILK &amp; CREAM SOLD TO CONSUMERS

Source: Federal Milk Market Administration, Chicago, Illinois

Prepared in Department of Agricultural Economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois

Grade A Milk Price Highest

Prices paid farmers for Grade A Milk sold to consumers are higher than those paid for evaporated milk or milk made into butter or cheese. In 1945, the price for Grade A milk in Chicago averaged 70 cents per 100 pounds ($3.30-2.60), or 1 1/2 cent per quart more than that paid for evaporated milk.

Grade A Cream Price Also Higher

Grade A cream also brings a premium over the price paid for evaporated milk. In 1945, the price for Grade A milk separated into cream in Chicago averaged 30 cents per 100 pounds, or about 2/3 of a cent a quart more than that paid for evaporated milk.

Grade A Milk Costs More to Produce

Why are the prices of Grade A milk and cream higher than for evaporated milk or milk made into butter or cheese?

ANSWER: Because it costs more to get farmers to produce milk which meets Grade A requirements than it does for milk evaporated or made into butter or cheese.

Roland W. Bartlett, Professor Agricultural Economics University of Illinois

LAW on the FARM

Ownership of Streams, Ponds and Islands—According to Illinois law, the beds of streams belong to those who own the land next to the stream (riparian owners.)

When different persons own the land on opposite sides of a stream each is presumed to own to the center or "thread."

However, the terms of a deed or conveyance may specify the stream bank, or high or low water mark as the boundary. Persons holding the land on both sides own all of the bed. Owners along non-navigable streams also have exclusive control of the water to the extent of their rights in the stream bed, and may prevent trespass or use of the water above such bed. In one interesting case the Illinois Supreme Court held that a low navigable stream in Union County, had a right to prevent the logs of upper owners from floating across his streambed. However, owners cannot use or divert the water in such a way as to interfere with normal use by lower owners.

Although the United States government granted to the states the title to all navigable streams, it is generally held in Illinois that owners along navigable streams own the bed, subject to the rights of public use, including navigation, fishing, power development and other enterprises, and may not do anything which will interfere with such public rights.

The bed of Lake Michigan, to the extent it is in Illinois, and the beds of waterways constructed by the state are owned by the state. Non-navigable ponds or lakes are owned in the same manner as non-navigable streams.

The ownership of islands or of accretions to the banks of streams is determined by reference to the center or "thread" of the stream, and may be owned wholly or partially by opposite stream bank owners, depending upon the place of deposit.

Persons who create stock ponds or other artificial bodies of water are entitled to the exclusive ownership and use of such unless they are created from the waters of a navigable stream. Fish, however, are owned by the state and the owner of an artificial body of water does not acquire exclusive rights in them unless the water is entirely disconnected from a stream.

Legion membership at record high

Illinois, together with New York, ranked second in the nation for the largest number of American Legion posts with more than 2,000 members, a recent national survey conducted by the Legion disclosed.

The Department of Illinois had seven posts listed on the "super post" roster. So did New York. Topping them was Pennsylvania with 10.

Largest Legion post in the world—and the Legion has 17,070 posts with a total membership of 2,372,870—is Omaha, Neb., Post No. 1 with 16,072 members.

When rain falls upon land it passes downward through the air spaces, assisted by gravity, until it finds an obstruction which causes it to stand in the lower air spaces or until it all becomes capillary water.
